

YOUSIF SHERONICK

Praised by The New York Times for his “dazzling improvisations” and “wizardry on a range of humble frame drums,” Yousif Sheronick brings the world of percussion to life through his dynamic blend of classical training and global rhythms. A Yale graduate, Yousif has worked with artists as varied as Philip Glass, Yo-Yo Ma, Laurie Anderson, and the Los Angeles Philharmonic, as well as with his wife and violist Kathryn Lockwood in their adventurous duo, duoJalal.

Equally passionate about teaching, Yousif founded Frame Drum School (www.framedrumschool.org), where more than 1,300 students from 74 countries study his unique approach to rhythm. His performances and collaborations have taken him to venues from Carnegie Hall to festivals across six continents. Yousif proudly plays Cooperman Drums, Sabian Cymbals, Innovative Mallets, and Pearl/Adams instruments.
